A winter escape tailor made for the GQ guy

Secluded and perfecto.

Winter is for cuddles right? And what says cuddles more than a perfect secluded getaway in the winelands? You feel us right? That's why when we discovered the two-day private family retreat in the Franschoek at La Provençale, we just had to share it with you.

La Provençale is an idyllic weekend or holiday destination for small groups. It's located in the vineyards. Guests are accommodated in style with two en suite bedrooms, separated for privacy by a shared lounge leading onto a relaxing outdoor terrace and pool. Surrounded by hibernating vines and sweeping views this is the quintessential private getaway.

The La Provençale experience includes breakfast and dinner with exciting activities, including a French-style picnic lunch beside the vines, weather permitting, and a ride on the hop-on, hop-off, Franschoek Wine Tram to discover this French-inspired valley.

You can explore the variety of elegant wines paired with canapés during A Taste of Grande Provence, while the children enjoy a grape juice version. For a special treat, guests are spoilt with delicious Shiraz truffles crafted on the estate.
